FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Local bands on show at Band Camp

Following on from the sell-out success of last year, Band Camp is back with a full day line up of performances and workshops designed to give creative young people aged 13 to 25 an insight into the music industry.

On Friday April 9 the QUT/BNIT Caboolture Campus will be rocking with the sounds of local bands ELAH, The Subject was Roses, Gentlemen, Autumn Sun and Never Lose Sight, covering genres from folk-rock and pop to metal/hardcore.

For just $10 for the day, young musicians can meet and learn with industry professionals such as Glenn Esmond from The Butterfly Effect and long-term music guru and 'Footstomp Music' founder Graham Ashton at workshops including song writing, recording technique and how to get gigs.

Ezra from local pop/rock act ELAH is excited about the band's showcase spot in the line-up. 'The showcase spot at Band Camp 2010 is going to give us so many opportunities, and already has.'

'The fact that we will get to play in front of fellow musicians, local youth and industry professionals is so valuable to my own musical journey as well as that of my entire band,' Ezra says.

'If the rest of the youth in the Moreton Bay region don't jump on this, they are going to miss out on a great opportunity. Band Camp 2010 is going to be great!'
