Snapshot

PASSIONATE local arts professional Rebecca Claire Edwards is launching her new exhibition, Showcase, this Friday night.

Rebecca is a creative arts lecturer at James Cook University and the Tropical North Queensland Institute of TAFE, a volunteer management committee member of Cell Art Space and a freelance photographer and artist.

She said the exhibition was a rare, non-commission opportunity for artists to exhibit and sell their artworks, as well as present new photographic work from her upcoming solo exhibition, Effervescence.

"I am passionate about connecting with other young visual artists," she says. "The contacts I have gained from being involved in Youth Arts Queensland's Young People Creating Queensland website have been invaluable (in creating this exhibition)."
